Reference:

Dear valued Customer,

Until now, DFE Pharma has been selling Solani Amylum and Prejel PA5 PH, whereas the official manufacturer was Avebe, the Netherlands. DFE Pharma is happy to inform you that the products Solani Amylum and Prejel PA5 PH will now be adopted within the DFE Pharma corporate brand family by becoming the legal manufacturer of both products.

Most visible to you will be the change of packaging: the original Avebe packaging will be changed to the DFE Pharma brand. Below, you can see as example the old and new look of the packaging for Solani Amylum:

While product quality will not be effected, product and quality-related documentation for these products will be offered through DFE Pharma. Location, production processes and product specifications will be continued without any change. Except for the change of the design of the packaging material, other packaging parameters (type, specs, supplier), remain the same. Customers can expect to receive both old and new packaging formats, as of November 2014, until the old inventories are depleted.

Please feel free to contact your local sales representative for any further questions.

With kindest regards,

Jacqueline Kint
